Positive Thinking ANNOUNCEMENTS

Make It Count: Life isn't a rehearsal for opening night of the show. Life is opening night! Sure, you'll make mistakes and often have second chances, but when you make decisions, make them with intention. Every decision you make, big or small, results in an outcome or consequence that you can't control. Your control is in the choice, never the result. Be conscious and informed in your decision making. Think about the possible results for what you are about to do or not do, or what you say. Make your mark on this world by making responsible decisions, figuring out who you are, who you want to be, and what you can do to make the world a more positive place. Whatever you do, make it count!
